

Governor Deal Signs Georgia Lacrosse Day Proclamation

In recognition of the fast-growing popularity of the sport of lacrosse within Georgia, Governor Nathan Deal has declared April 25, 2015 to be Georgia Lacrosse Day. This official day of celebration takes place as the SouthEastern Lacrosse Conference (SELC) celebrates their 28th Annual Championship Tournament, which will be played in Johns Creek, Ga., from Friday, April 24, through Sunday, April 26. Friday quarter final games will be played at Northview, Alpharetta and South Forsyth high schools and Greater Atlanta Christian School. Saturday semifinal and Sunday championship games will be played at Northview.

"We are honored to have Governor Deal recognize a day for the sport of lacrosse in Georgia. Potential teams vying for a championship are Georgia Tech, Virginia Tech, Florida State, Liberty University, Georgia, Reinhardt, Kennesaw State and SCAD to name a few. We look forward to exciting competition and thrilling the fans with college level lacrosse" commented SELC President and Tournament Director Doug Horn.

"We are thrilled once again to have the honor of hosting the SELC Tournament in Johns Creek" said Johns Creek Convention and Visitors Bureau Chairman, Lynda Lee Smith. "The tournament is an anticipated event for both Lacrosse players and sports fans in the region. We invite you to bring the family and experience this exciting college tournament in person!"

To learn more about the SELC Championships go to www.selctournament.com

Pictured from left to right: Lynda Smith (Chair of Johns Creek Convention and Visitors Bureau), Doug Horn (SELC President), Justin Westbrook (Northview), Cooper Lyon (South Forsyth), Governor Nathan Deal, Cal Swanson (Alpharetta), Matty Biondich (Northview), Carly Connors (Northview).